

Dear Former NFL Player

Binson's Home Health Care Centers is pleased to announce the NFL Former Players Medical Equipment Loan Closet. This new program is designed to offer medical equipment and supplies to former players who otherwise may not have access to such services due to insurance issues or financial difficulty. The equipment available includes wheelchairs, hospital beds, walkers, canes, disposable products, etc. This is a free service to all former NFL players.

How the NFPME loan closet works:

Binson's regularly receives medical equipment from individuals who no longer require its use for various reasons*. Binson's provides this service for other groups, such as MDA and Karmanos Cancer Institute. Binson's will now offer these medical equipment and supplies to former NFL players.

Binson's will inventory, clean, sanitize, repair, and maintain all donated equipment available for use. When the need arises, the player will then contact Binson's. If the item is available in the loan closet, the player may make an appointment to pick up the item. Some items may have to be delivered and set-up by Binson's depending upon the equipment. Our goal is to expand this program on a national level. We will keep you apprised of our progress and new developments.

We are also extending a 15% discount to all former players that may have an equipment or supply need that may not be available through the loan closet. This discount can be applied to most all medical equipment and supplies, but does not apply to insurance transactions. Binson's also bills most insurances for most medical equipment and supply needs. If a former player is in need of any medical equipment or supply, Binson's can make it available for you.

Former Players must present valid State Identification along with a valid NFL Former Players Union Identification card or NFL Alumni card.
